BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - The method involves creating objects e.g. users, groups, departments, locations, acuity, and activities related to workflow processing management and modeling an organization e.g. hospital. The relationships between each department and other objects are set. A work plan for each department is entered and a report showing the work plan is then produced.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - INDEPENDENT CLAIMS are also included for the following:

(a) a computer readable medium with instructions executable by computer to create a workflow process management application

(b) an apparatus for creating a workflow process management application

USE - Used in an organization e.g. bank and hospital for creating a workflow process management application.

ADVANTAGE - The method quickly creates workflow process management applications while leveraging work previously performed in developing other workflow process management applications.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The drawing shows an illustration of a method for building a workflow process management application.
